NEAB AND NTA TO INTRODUCE TRAINING FOR ESTATE AGENTS

The Namibia Estate Agents Board (NEAB) and the Namibia Training Authority (NTA) have embarked on a project through which estate agents rendering estate agency services to the public will soon be subjected to a compulsory market entry examination.

The examination is aimed at improving public confidence in estate agency services and enhancing the level of professionalism of the estate agency industry. The NEAB intends to endorse and enforce the examination for all estate agents as a pre-requisite for licensing and registration.

Estate agents currently registered by the NEAB will be catered for in terms of the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) and Continuous Professional Development (CPD) programmes.

About NEAB:

The objective of the NEAB is in line with the Estate Agents Act 112 of 1976 and all relevant legislation, which is to regulate the environment in which the transaction between members of the public and estate agents occurs. The NEAB's primary mandate of the NEAB in respect of the Act is to regulate, maintain and promote the standard of conduct of estate agents, having due regard to the public interest.

About NTA:

The NTA was established in line with the Vocational Education and Training Act 1 of 2008. The NTA endeavours to ensure a sustainable skills delivery system under which quality vocational and technical skills are imparted to young Namibians through training programmes, which meet the current and emerging needs of industries.
